

Privacy Policy for Kawartha Lakes Health Care Initiative

PURPOSE:

The Kawartha Lakes Health Care Initiative (KLHCI) is dedicated to protecting your privacy and maintaining the trust that you have placed in us. As such, our privacy policy (the “Privacy Policy”) incorporates the standards set out in applicable federal and provincial privacy legislation.

POLICY:

A. Collection and Use of Personal Information

KLHCI generally collects personal information as necessary to administer our programs and services, including as described below.

- 1.1 We may collect banking and credit card information to receive and process donations. In addition, we may collect contact information to acknowledge donations and issue tax receipts. We deeply appreciate your financial support. We may contact you to inform you of and to request your support for our future endeavours because you have demonstrated an interest in supporting KLHCI’s mission, unless you ask us not to do so.
- 1.2 We may collect family and neighbourhood statistics to raise awareness of and increase potential for fundraising and new donors.
- 1.3 We may collect your name, mailing address and email address in order to send you newsletters for which you have signed up.
- 1.4 We may collect other personal information with your consent or as permitted or required by law.

B. Disclosure of Personal Information

KLHCI may disclose or transfer personal information as necessary in order to administer its programs and services, including as described below.

- 2.1 We may transfer personal information to our service providers who need access to personal information to carry out their work for us, including donation processing, communicating, data hosting, data processing and information technology, and other similar purposes. We use contractual or other means to require service providers to provide a level of security comparable to that provided under our Privacy Policy.

2.2 We may use and disclose personal information in connection with the proposed or actual financing, securitization, insuring, sale, assignment or other disposal of all or part of our organization or assets, for the purposes of evaluating and/or performing the proposed transaction. Assignees or successors of KLHCI or our organization or assets may use and disclose your personal information for similar purposes as those described in this policy.

2.3 We may disclose personal information as necessary to meet legal, regulatory, insurance, audit and security requirements, or otherwise with your consent or as permitted or required by law.

C. Obtaining Consent

KLHCI is committed to obtaining your consent for the collection of your personal information and the subsequent use or disclosure of this information, unless otherwise permitted or required by law.

3.1 In obtaining consent, we make a reasonable effort to ensure that you are advised, in a manner that can be reasonably understood, of the purposes for which the information will be used, including by explaining our personal information handling practices in this Privacy Policy.

3.2 Consent can be obtained in many ways. Consent can be express or implied. You may also provide your consent in some circumstances where notice has been provided to you about our intentions with respect to your personal information and you have not withdrawn your consent for an identified purpose, such as by using an “opt out” option provided, if any. In determining the appropriate form of consent, we will take into account the sensitivity of the personal information and the reasonable expectations of individuals with whom we deal.

3.3 Generally, by providing us with personal information, we will assume that you consent to our collection, use and disclosure of such information for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy or otherwise at the time of collection. By providing us with personal information about another individual, you represent that you have consent from that person to provide his or her personal information to us.

3.4 You may withdraw your consent at any time, subject to legal or contractual restrictions and reasonable notice, by contacting our Recruitment & Retention Coordinator. Please note that the withdrawal of your consent may impact our ability to serve you and to maintain our relationship.

3.5 In certain circumstances personal information can be collected, used or disclosed without your knowledge and consent. For example, to comply with a court order, local or federal regulations, or legally permitted inquiry by a government agency or to collect a debt owed to us. We may also collect, use and disclose information without your consent if it is reasonable for the purposes of establishing, managing or terminating an employment or volunteer relationship.

3.6 We may rely on third parties to obtain your consent to our collection, use and disclosure of personal information when we cannot seek consent directly from you. For example, seeking consent directly from you may not be possible when we acquire a mailing list from another organization. In such cases, the organization providing the list would be expected to obtain your consent before disclosing personal information to us.

D. Protection of Personal Information

KLHCI is committed to protecting your personal information by security safeguards appropriate to the sensitivity of the information.

4.1 We take reasonable steps to protect personal information against loss or theft, as well as unauthorized access, disclosure, copying, use or modification, regardless of the format in which it is held, including: (i) physical security measures, such as locked filing cabinets and restricted access to areas where personal information is stored; (ii) organizational security measures, such as employee training, security clearances and limiting access to a “need-to-know” basis; and (iii) technological security measures, such as passwords and encryption, to prevent unauthorized access to personal information stored on computer systems.

4.2 When disposing of or destroying personal information which is no longer needed, we ensure that appropriate measures are taken regarding the disposal or destruction so as to prevent unauthorized parties from gaining access to the personal information.

E. Retention of Personal Information

5.1 KLHCI is committed to retaining your personal information only as long as necessary for the fulfillment of the purposes outlined above, to satisfy legal or regulatory requirements or for the fulfillment of legitimate business purposes.

F. Access to and Correction of Personal Information

Upon receipt of a written request, KLHCI will inform you of the existence, use and disclosure of your personal information and will give you access to that information, subject to applicable legal restrictions. You will also be able to challenge the accuracy and completeness of the information and have it amended as appropriate. In responding to your written request, we may require you to provide sufficient information to permit us to verify your identity before we provide an account of the existence, use and disclosure of your personal information, provide access to it, or make corrections.
